FOOTBALL FACTS BOOK

The annual Brigham Young University Football Facts book, prepared by the Public Relations Department, is intended to assist members of the press and radio in reporting and covering the activities of BYU's Football team for the public.

Photographs, news material, features and other data may be conveniently obtained from the Athletic News Bureau, Public Relations Office, Brigham Young University.

We want your assignment to be a pleasant one while covering Brigham Young University. On page 2 is a list of Hotel Headquarters for Brigham Young University while the team is traveling. Sportscasters and commentators are urged to familiarize themselves with visiting Cougar teams by attending practice sessions or having conference sessions with Coach Atkinson at hotel headquarters. Visiting sportscasters coming to Provo are invited to practice sessions and to confer with University officials at any time.

ABOUT OUR OPPONENTS

Idaho State College (Pocatello, Idaho)

September 14—'Y' stadium, Provo, Utah. Kickoff, 8 p.m.

Series History—BYU won 1, ISC 0, tied 0.

Last year's game—BYU 14, ISC 13. These teams met last year for the first time and in the first game of the season. Atkinson's boys, remembering their straight string of losses the year before, were overjoyed at breaking the jinx. BYU grabbed a quick touchdown on a reverse and pass. ISC matched that one and another in hard fought gains, but it was Karpowitz' golden toe which meant the difference.

Western State College of Colorado (Gunnison, Colo.)

September 22—'Y' stadium, Provo, Utah. Kickoff, 8 p.m.

Series History—BYU won 17, WSC 0, tied 0.

Last game—These teams have played off and on since 1923. The Last game was in 1947 which BYU won 45-0.

University of Hawaii (Honolulu)

September 29—'Y' stadium, Provo, Utah. Kickoff, 8 p.m.

Series History—BYU won 0, Hawaii 1, tied 0.

Last year's game—BYU 7, Hawaii 39. Wilted in the tropical climate of Hawaii, the Cougars bogged down. The Rainbows scored in the second and third periods and exploded for four tallies in the fourth. The Y's men fashioned a TD in the third with a tough series of line plays.

University of Utah (Salt Lake City)

October 6—Ute stadium, Salt Lake City. Kickoff, 8 p.m.

Series History—BYU won 1, Utah 22, tied 4.

Last year's game—BYU 28, Utah 28. The Provoans played brilliantly to take the game away from the favored Redmen for three quarters. It was a battle of offenses as both sides put over thrilling running and aerial plays. But the Cougars' gas ran out and the Utes went into a 28-21 lead in the last period. The Pumas superhuman effort pulled the game out of the fire.

University of Wyoming (Laramie)

October 20—War Memorial Stadium, Laramie. Kickoff, 1:30 p.m.

Series History—BYU won 13, Wyoming 6, tied 1.

Last year's game—BYU 0, Wyoming 48. As with every other team in the Skyline conference last year, BYU just tried to keep Wyatt's power machine to as low a score as possible. BYU was victim of its own excitement, fumbling four times when within scoring distance.

University of Denver (Denver)

October 27—Pioneer stadium, Denver.

Series History—BYU won 3, Denver 9, tied 0.

Last year's game—BYU 3, Denver 42. It just wasn't a BYU day. The Pioneers put on a show for homecoming and scored in every period. BYU's points came on a field goal by Karpowitz.

Colorado A & M (Fort Collins)

November 3—Y stadium, Provo, Utah. Kickoff, 1:30 p.m. Homecoming.

Series History—BYU won 1, A & M 4, tied 0.

Last year's game—BYU 14, A & M 27. Another homecoming toughie. The Rams took the heart out of BYU in the first 20 seconds by a touchdown on an interception. Atkinson lost Mortensen and Oliverson through injuries. The Cougars had fumble-itis.

Utah State Agricultural College (Logan)

November 10—Y stadium, Provo, Utah. Kickoff, 1:30 p.m.

Series History—BYU won 9, USAC 16, tied 3.

Last year's game—BYU 34, Utah State 13. After a rest the Cougars were rejuvenated. They turned on the dipsy-do and put power into the line outplaying the Farmers all the way. Five Aggie drives fizzled and fumbles meant scores for the Cats. The Y completed 8 passes for 100 yards.

University of New Mexico (Albuquerque)

November 17—Zimmerman field, Albuquerque. Kickoff, 1:30 p.m.

Series History—No previous games.

George Pepperdine College (Los Angeles)

November 17—El Camino stadium, Los Angeles. Kickoff, 8 p.m.

Series History—BYU won 2, Pepperdine 1, tied 0.

Last year's game—BYU 28, Pepperdine 27. It was sheer grit as the Cougars battled down a larger and deeper club. The Brighams grabbed one in the first by a long run by Rex Berry from his own 26 on a punt. But it was a 20-14 BYU deficit at intermission. An interception by Oliverson and some line-busting by Don Benson along with Karpowitz' trusty toe did the trick.

THE OUTLOOK

Brigham Young University should have the best team since Coach Atkinson took over.

That was the frank prediction of Coach Atkinson as he saw that military services had left him in better shape than he had anticipated.

Briefly the Cougar situation is this: Although lacking in strong wheelhorses, the team will have greater depth, more weight and more speed. In fact BYU will be able to use the platoon system for the first time.

Although a poll of Skyline coaches places BYU sixth in the conference, Atkinson is hoping to win six or seven of his ten-game slate. Last season the Y's men won four, lost five and tied Utah.

The schedule is not exceedingly onerous but is a peculiar arrangement. The first three games are in Provo before the student body arrives on campus; Sept. 14, Idaho State; Sept. 22, Western State of Colorado; Sept. 29, Hawaii. The Provoans might just sweep that series, but then they run into the three toughies away from home; Oct. 6, University of Utah; Oct. 20, Wyoming; Oct. 27, Denver. Then Colorado Aggies and Utah Aggies invade Provo Nov. 3 and 10 and the Brighamams are pointing for these two. New Mexico at Albuquerque on Nov. 17, and Pepperdine at Los Angeles on No. 24 should give the Cougars a strong windup.

Atkinson will have 21 lettermen back, eight of them seniors and 13 juniors. Thirteen lettermen have been lost through graduation, military service and other jobs.

These losses will hit the Cougars in several key spots. Both first string centers have gone—Dick Hill with his diploma and Jess Criddle to run his Idaho farm. The backfield will miss hard-plunging Don Benson and triple-threat Rex Berry, now with the San Francisco Forty-niners. Brainy Benny Mortenson, quarterback, is a linguist and the FBI has him in a key job. The end situation will suffer the loss of Bruce Burr, Bob Cowser and Rod Long.

Under the new freshman play rule, Chick has brought in ten greenlings as varsity prospects. They may not see much varsity action but will spark the 'B' team. Outstanding transfers will be Richard Fenning, fullback, Phoenix; Glen Hunt, tackle, St. George; Angelo Bosco, center, Pasadena Junior College; Bob Bills, halfback, Pasadena; Udell Westover, halfback, Snow Junior College.

Line Coach Reed Nilsen may be able to field a heavy forward wall. End positions will be dominated by Owen Skousen, 170 pounds, and Max Tolbert, 175, but there will be at tackle Glen Hunt, 220, Alvy Clove, 215, Roy Boulter, 240, and Lowell Madsen, 208. At guard, experience will count in John Paulson, 190, and Bob Flaherty, 180. In the pivot, quiet George Bowman, 210, will see much action.

CHARLES "CHICK" ATKINSON Head Football Coach

Brigham Young football squads are frequently outmanned but never out-fought. This spirit which has lifted the Cougars out of the cellar and into a threatening position is greatly attributable to amiable Chick Atkinson.

The youthful mentor, 33 years old, is in his third year at the Provo school, and if past performances of steady improvement are a criterion, Chick should bring the Cougars along this season to one of the most interesting clubs in the league. Last year his fancy-Dan attacks were the delight of the conference, and now he may have some beef to back up his system.

Chick is pleased with the turnout this year, the first time that he has not suffered heavily from military and church mission losses. He readily admits that he hopes to take six or seven of the ten-game slate.

Atkinson came to Brigham Young University from Pocatello High School where his teams won 38 games, lost 11, and tied one. A graduate of that high school also, he participated in football, basketball and track. He later attended Idaho State College and University of Idaho and was graduated from there in 1941 with BS and MS degrees.

In high school he was captain of the basketball team and all-state cager at guard. He also played on a state high school championship football team at right halfback. He was senior class president and was voted the outstanding athlete of the school for 1935-36.

At Idaho State College he participated in football, basketball and track, and at Idaho University took major roles in football, basketball and baseball. For the Bengals, he was captain of the basketball team and was voted the outstanding athlete in 1937-38. He also played on the ISC baseball team which won 25 consecutive games.

While at Idaho University he was captain of both the baseball and basketball teams and was selected on the Pacific Coast all-division baseball team. He also was president of the letterman's club.

In four years of college sports he won 12 major athletic awards.

REED NILSEN Line Coach

Untiring Reed Nilsen is smiling these days, for in the three years he has been at Brigham Young he has currently the best line material to work with. Where he has beef he has little experience and where there is experience there is little avoirdupois. Nevertheless, Reed figures his boys will be ready.

And when he tells the big boys what to do, he knows what he is talking about, for he was a nationally famous lineman himself. Reed is a product of Brigham Young University, lettering here three years and garnering all-conference center honors in 1946. He played in the East-West all-star game in San Francisco in 1947. Before his college days he was an all-state fullback for Provo high school in his senior year.

After his student days, Reed took a fling at the play-for-pay game with the Detroit Lions, but resigned after one year to return to BYU as assistant coach. He moved up after a year as freshman coach to join Atkinson's staff.

An outstanding wrestler in college, he also serves as wrestling coach in the winter.

BOB BUNKER End Coach

Every football team needs a guy to ease the tension. That's Bob Bunker. Popular for his sly smile, dry wit and friendliness, Bob rounds out the triumverate of mentors who took over at BYU three years ago.

He hails from Preston, Idaho, where he was high school athletic coach from 1945 to 1949. His teams won three out of four district championships in football, held the state championship in basketball in 1946 and were runner-up in 1948.

A graduate of Utah State Agricultural college, he earned two letters in basketball and three in football. He was all-conference end and captain of Dick Romney's conference championship football team in 1936. He coached for three years at South Cache high school, then spent five years in the Army. Upon his release he began his whirl at Preston.

Last winter he also coached the championship freshman basketball team of BYU.

DAVE CROWTON Junior Varsity Coach

Coach Crowton takes over Junior Varsity duties this season when such duties assume more importance than heretofore. Dave also handles player relations for Brigham Young.

He played end for Granite High school for two years and captained Granite's championship football team in 1930, the year he was graduated.

He attended Brigham Young from 1934 to 1938 but a leg injury held his athletic pursuits to a year of varsity basketball, 1936.

Upon graduation he took over coaching duties at Brigham Young High School, 1938 to 1948. His basketball teams won the regional championship in 1941 and the state crown in 1948. The next year he joined the university staff.

RODNEY KIMBALL Trainer

Rod works hardest during the football season trying to keep the gridders in shape.

Elected outstanding scholar-athlete at Jordan high school in 1929, Rod was junior class president, student body president, and lettered three years in football and baseball, two years in basketball and one year in track. He attended Utah State and Brigham Young University, winning his football numeral, and has been trainer since 1937.

LETTERMEN NOT RETURNING

Don Benson, fullback
Rex Berry, halfback
Bruce Burr, end
Bob Cowser, end
Jess Criddle, center
Richard Hill, center

Rod Long, end
George Mc Whorter, tackle
Ben Mortensen, quarterback
Don Nielsen, guard
Bob Dimick, tackle
Bradley Poodry, end.

LETTERMEN RETURNING

Ends—Max Tolbert.

Tackles—Larry Hancock, Melvin Nielsen, Roy Boulter, Lowell Madsen, Alvie Clove, Richard Tooke.

Guards—Walter Smit, John Paulson, Ron Daly, Bob Flaherty, Lewis Kochevar.

Centers—Warren Kimball.

Quarterbacks—Keith Matthews, Darrell Doney.

Halfbacks—Ray Oliverson, Robert Hamblin, Gary Paxman, Ralph Willett.

Fullbacks—Bob Karpowitz, Jae Ballif.

MISCELLANEOUS FACTS

System of Play—T-formation with some spread. Platoon substitution.

Extra point kicker—Bob Karpowitz. Converted 16 out of 18 last year.

Punters—Bob Karpowitz and Jae Ballif.

Ground game—Unable to match some of the power of other conference members, Coach Atkinson will play considerable dippy-do, attempting to befuddle the opposition with the deceptive T. Ballif and Karpowitz will do line plunging, Gary Paxman can pick his way through the line, and speed jobs will go to Oliverson, Bills, Fenning, Whitaker, and Hamblin.

Aerial game—From the signal calling post, Keith Matthews, LaVon Satterfield and Darrell Doney will do most flinging. On the receiving end, Max Tolbert, Owen Skousen and Marion Probert are sticky-fingered.

Kickoff—Probably Karpowitz again.

Outstanding sophomores—Joe Martinez, George Bowman, Owen Skousen, DeMar Stout.

Outstanding Transfers—Angelo Bosco, Pasadena City College; Bob Bills, Pasadena; Udell Westover, Snow Junior College.

Sam Johnson, Orem, Utah, tackle.
Calvin Monson, American Fork, Utah, center.

THUMBNAIL SKETCHES

ENDS

OWEN SKOUSEN—Sophomore, 170, 6', age 18, Mesa, Ariz. Owen is one of the promising lads up from the frosh ranks. He is not large but is one of the top ends. Eager and rough, this sticky-fingered end will nab it if you toss the ball in his general direction.

HAL EGBERT—Sophomore, 175, 6-1, age 24, Kanab, Utah. He has been out of football for a couple of years, but is coming around fast. He has a good spirit and does a good job on defense, though not too strong.

DERAY EYRE—Sophomore, 186, age 23, Las Vegas, Nev. Served recently on a mission for the LDS Church and is coming along slowly because of long layoff from athletics. However, he should develop by mid-season and prove a fair defensive end.

MERLE ALLEN—Sophomore, 171, 6-0, age 19, Prescott, Ariz. Has a long way to go but is working hard to develop into a defensive end.

WENDELL EGBERT—Sophomore, 171, 6-1, age 19, Preston, Idaho. Down from the country of Coach Bob Bunker, this youngster is trying hard but needs a lot of work.

MAX TOLBERT—Senior, 174, 6-0, age 21, Fayetteville, Pa. With two years of varsity ball behind him, Max is one of the most experienced men on the squad. Last year he topped the list of Atkinson's iron men as the player who was in the affray longer than anyone, 457 minutes. Although not large for an end, he knows his way around and does his share of receiving in the aerial game.

GLENN RUPP—Junior, 188, 6-6, age 20, Tooele, Utah. Glenn is the tallest man on the team. He played freshman basketball but never made the varsity. He played reserve end in his sophomore year but didn't put in enough time to earn a letter. His size makes him a little slow.

KARL ROGERS—Sophomore, 181, 6-5, age 18, Paonia, Colo. He was a newcomer in spring football but showed ample ability to merit the varsity.

KAY STEPHENSON—Sophomore, 176, 5-11, age 18, McCammon, Idaho. This lad was out for spring football but suffered an injury. He has grown since then and added some weight, but yet has to prove himself.

DEWEY BRUNDAGE—Junior, 181, 6-3, age 19, Pacoima, California. This Pasadena Junior College transfer is big and strong and eager. He throws around a lot of ability and can work the end spot in either offensive or defensive action.

TACKLES

MELVIN NIELSEN—Junior, 186, 6-1, age 20, Vallejo, Calif. Mel is a letterman and will start at left tackle offensively. He is nervy and rough but just a little slow and will be pushed for the position by Hancock and Cunningham.

LARRY HANCOCK—Junior, 186, 6-1, age 20, Pocatello, Idaho. This letterman will be pressing Nielsen for the left tackle spot offensively. He played frosh ball and earned his letter as a sophomore, but since then has showed great improvement and will see much action.

HAROLD CUNNINGHAM—Junior, 186, 6-1, age 20, Helper, Utah. This Carbon Junior College transfer is one of the outstanding defensive tackles on the lot and will see much action. He is all over the place and likes to play football.

WINSLOW LEE—Sophomore, 190, 6-3, age 19, Winslow, Ariz. This tall, rangy boy stays in there pitching, but has too many good men ahead of him in this department to see much action this season.

LOWELL MADSEN—Junior, 205, 6-2, age 19, Provo, Utah. This local boy found himself in the Utah game last year and went on to earn his letter as a sophomore. He plugs the line like a ton of bricks and will make life miserable for a lot of tacklers this season. He showed so much improvement that he took over veteran Alvy Clove's spot and Alvy moved over to guard.

ROY BOULTER—Junior, 230, 6-1, age 23, Provo, Utah. They grow 'em big in the home town. Here is another local boy who will likely start. He returned recently from an LDS mission which came after he had lettered a year with the Cougars three years ago. A bit out of shape after his long layoff, he should be a better gridder by mid-season.

GLEN HUNT—Junior, 207, 6-1, age 27, St. George, Utah. Here's another former missionary who will have to do a lot of playing before he gets back into form. He is a transfer from Dixie Junior College and before long will be able to plug a tackle hole effectively.

RICHARD TOOKE—Senior, 172, 6-2, age 23, Provo, Utah. Although he has lettered two years, this veteran will have some strong competition to hold his place among the flock of talented newer men seeking this position.

HARRY BRAY—Senior, 230, 6-1, age 25, Hilo, Hawaii. This big boy from the land of palms and pineapples came to BYU via Weber college. He is big and strong and likes to play football. Although an amputee he is an excellent blocker and fair defensive man.

GUARDS

JOHN PAULSON—Senior, 192, 5-8, age 24, Orem, Utah. This letterman is no bone-crusher as guards go, but he is built like a barrel and is troublesome to remove. He can play offensively or defensively and will be a starter. He should see plenty of action.

WALTER SMIT—Junior, 181, 6-0, age 20, Madera, Calif. Walt takes care of the middle of the line defensively. He lettered last year as a sophomore and had considerable experience in the battle of beef, which he may employ as a defensive signal caller.

CLARENCE HULSE—Junior, 178, 6-0, age 20, Buhl, Idaho. This transfer from SIEC at Albion, Idaho, brings with him a lot of strength and spirit and should add depth to Atkinson's forward wall.

JOE MARTINEZ—Junior, 170, age 18, Midway, Utah. Lacking a little in weight, Joe is showing some promise as a guard but is not quite ready, although he should see some action this year.

LEWIS KOCHEVAR—Junior, 188, 6-1, age 20, Los Angeles. This should be a great year for this letterman. He is a hard-fighting defensive outside linebacker and a fair offensive blocker.

ROBERT EARP—Junior, 191, 5-11, age 19, El Monte, Calif. This transfer is a strong defensive player and does a good job of smearing anything that tries to come through the middle.

ROBERT FLAHERTY—Senior, 172, 5-11, age 23, Temple City, Calif. If he isn't plagued by injuries as he was last year, Bob should prove one of the Cougar stalwarts. He is scheduled for a big performance as defensive outside linebacker. He is in good shape and should have a better year.

ALVY CLOVE—Senior, 210, 6-1, age 23, Hurricane, Utah. This two-year letterman should turn in a valuable performance for the Cougars this season, and should repeat his all-conference rating. However, he will have to do it in another position, for oversupply in the tackle department caused Atkinson to move Alvy over to guard to strengthen the middle of the line.

LYNN RAVSTEN—Senior, 165, 5-10, age 23, Heyburn, Idaho. Brother of Vernon Ravsten, and the boys are at BYU from Albion, Idaho, junior collage. Lynn is smaller than his brother, but has a lot of get up and go.

CENTERS

ANGELO BASCO—Junior, 181, 6-1, age 20, El Monte, Calif. This Pasadena Junior College transfer brings a long suit of line backing and should help the Y's men in this function, although he also is improving as an offensive blocker.

GEORGE BOWMAN—Sophomore, 210, 6-3, age 19, McCammon, Idaho. This big, quiet boy from the land of the spuds started last spring in tackle spot, but has been shifted to center because of his size and strength. Although he lacks experience here, he is showing rapid development, and before his college days are over he should be one of the best offensive centers in the business. Also in line backing he is proving able.

WARREN KIMBALL—Junior, 174, 5-10, age 19, Phoenix, Ariz. Although he lettered last year, Warren was third man in the pivot, but the loss of rugged Dick Hill and Jess Criddle will leave him with the starting burden this season. However, he has learned a lot and should show up well.

VERNON RAVSTEN—Junior, 175, 5-11, age 20, Heyburn, Idaho. The big little brother of Lynn also hails from Albion and looks like some welcome help to Atkinson who is biting his fingernails over the center spot.

J. FRANKLIN HOWELL—Sophomore, 190, 6-1, age 19, Fairview, Utah. Although he is a smart and a hard worker, he needs experience.

LEHMAN WALL—Sophomore, 176, 6-0, age 18, American Fork, Utah. This boy puts plenty of energy into the game but is still a little slow.

QUARTERBACKS

LAVON SATTERFIELD—Junior, 164, 5-9, age 21, Sterling, Idaho. After an interruption in athletics by military service, this smart lad returns to the football field. He played reserve on the championship varsity basketball team two years ago also. Since his freshman year he has learned to throw and he can pick them up and put them down too.

DARRELL DONEY—Junior, 176, 6-1, age 20, Preston, Idaho. Although he is the largest of the quarterbacks, he does not move as rapidly. Doney turned in a good season for his letter last year. He has the strongest flipper of the signal barkers and will do much of the flinging.

KEITH MATTHEWS—Junior, 148, 5-11, age 21, Midvale, Utah. He probably holds honors as the smallest man on the team, but to him it doesn't mean a thing. Keith handles the team well and although he sometimes comes out a bit the worse for wear, he tangles with larger men without hesitancy.

DEAN LOYASS—Junior, 160, 5-10, age 22, Las Vegas, Nev. A transfer student, he likely will play reserve to the lads above.

HALFBACKS

TOM BURR—Sophomore, 176, 6-0, age 21, Moab, Utah. Tom played frosh ball as a transfer from Carbon Junior College. He is a hurdler and should add speed to the backfield.

RAY OLIVERSON—Senior, 174, 6-0, age 23, Preston, Idaho. This letterman showed his heels to the pack last season, and promises to do it again this year. A wide-sweep specialist, Ray is difficult to catch and turns in his share of the thrills.

DEMAR STOUT—Sophomore, 172, 5-8, age 20, Salt Lake City. A gift from freshmen, this lad is very fast and has showed up well in inter-squad scrimmage. His offensive ability exceeds his defensive.

THADDEUS SHOEMAKER—Sophomore, 172, 5-9, age 25, Chambersburg, Pa. If fire and determination mean anything, this lad is a whiz. One of the most enthusiastic men on the team, he was fair as a freshman.

UDELL WESTOVER—Junior, 175, 6-0, age 21, Pleasant Grove, Utah. This Snow Junior College transfer has shown a talent for picking holes in practice and should help both offense and defense.

WAYNE BIRD—Sophomore, 160, 5-8, age 19, Inglewood, Calif. A rather untried squadman among a lot of talent, has yet to prove himself.

GARY PAXMAN—Junior, 165, 5-9, age 19, Pocatello, Idaho. A twirling speeder from the coach's hometown, Gary loves the game and puts out 100 per cent. In spring football he was tried out at quarterback and proved very capable. However, with improvement in the quarterback situation he was shifted back again. He has purchased contact lenses and his game has improved.

ROBERT BILLS—Sophomore, 170, 5-10, age 19, Monrovia, Calif. A transfer from Pasadena Junior College, Bills formerly played offensive end. However, he is one of the fastest men on the Cougar club and should make the chase lively at left half.

ROBERT HAMBLIN—Junior, 169, 5-9, age 21, Seattle, Wash. The hardest worker on the squad, Bob always leads the pack. He is a skillful runner and hard hitter. His draft status is uncertain.

ROBERT WHITAKER—Junior, 162, 5-10, age 23, Ling Beach, Calif. Bob played some last year as reserve halfback, but should be ready this season to crash a starting position.

ROBERT SMITH—Junior, 162, 5-10, age 23, Milad, Idaho. A transfer from Snow Junior College, he is tough and rough but his lack of weight hampers him among bigger company.

GARY VAN VLIET—Sophomore, 161, 5-8, age 19, Los Angeles. Here is a sweet offensive runner runner who should see some action. He runs on his toes and sticks to his interference.

BOB FENNESSY—Junior, 181, 6-0, age 22, Altadent, Calif. Being tested as a defensive halfback and linebacker, but has yet to prove himself.

FULLBACKS

JAE BALLIF—Junior, 179, 6-1, age 20, Provo, Utah. Declared last year as one of the best defensive halfbacks in the loop, this stalwart has put on 10 pounds during the summer and should have a bang-up year. He will do much of the punting and will serve as defensive field general.

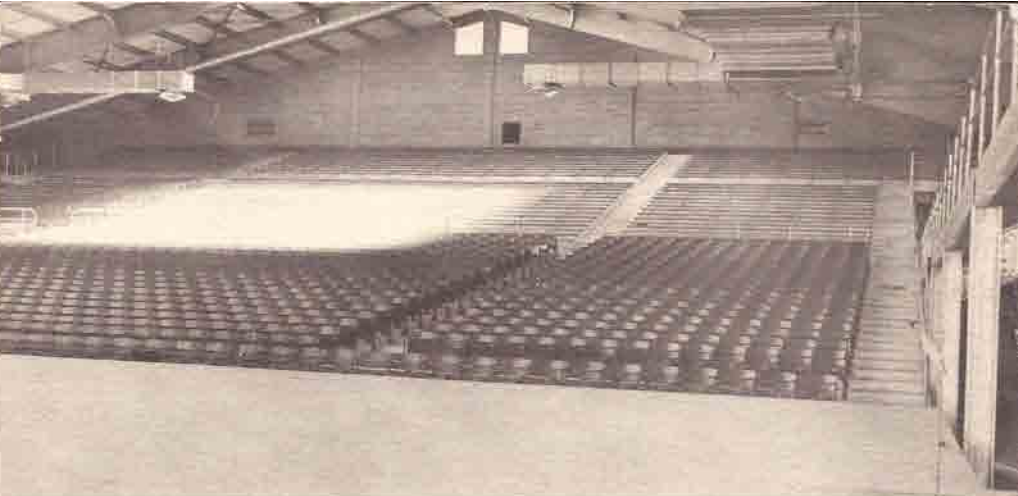

BOB KARPOWITZ—Senior, 190, 6-0, age 21, Salt Lake City. The lad with the golden toe converted 16 out of 18 last year and saved at least two ball games. He will handle the kicking chores again but also will see a great deal of offensive running action.

DOUGLAS SCADDEN—Senior, 190, 6-1, age 23, Ogden, Utah. He is rather large and slow but can hit and so will see some action.

RALPH WILLET—Junior, 172, 6-0, age 19, Provo, Utah. Ralph has been shifted from halfback, where he lettered last year, but has not seemed to pick up his earlier drive.

DARRELL CRAWFORD—Junior, 174, 5-9, age 20, Columbia, Utah. He came to Brigham Young to play baseball, but switched to the gridiron with fair success as a fullback.

RICHARD FUENNING—Junior, 170, 6-0, age 22, Phoenix, Ariz. This Phoenix Junior College transfer won the 220-yard dash in the BYU invitational and is hard to catch. He will prove a valuable offensive man, but does little with defense.
